The theft, which appeared to be the work of boys, was reported to Sheriff William H. Casey of Pawcatuck, who has started an investigation.

The price of coal dropped Wednesday, although it was expected to within a couple of weeks, and now the people of Westerly will have an opportunity to buy their fuel at more reasonable prices that they have been able to do for some months past. Some of the coal dealers were not planning to make a change, even though the retailers of New London and Providence announced that they would sell cheaper commencing the first of the month, but when they found that they were the cause of considerable unfavorable criticism and that one of the Westerly dealers was giving his oustomers the benefit of the new prices, the rest decided that it was good policy under the circumstances to do likewise, if they would hold their trade. The lone retailer did not care to announce to the public that he had reduced the price of coal, inasmuch as his competitors had not done so, but in quick time it was known that he had done so and the others were soon in line. and the others were soon in line.

One of the Westerly dealers states that coal in general is lower here in town than it is in Providence or New London, although the charge for towing from Stonington to Westerly is considerably higher than it is elsewhere in this section, as the boats that up the river cannot be leaded to full capacity.

Will Cut 250,000 Feet of Lumber.

People from the borough ebery day are visiting the big Williams sawmill in the Brewster woods, situated below the borough on the east bank of the Quinebaug. There are between 25 and 30 acres in the lot, and a large per cent of the trees are cut, mostly chestnut, with here and there an oak or hickory. It is expected that the mill will cut two hundred and fifty thousand feet. The Brewster woods for thirty years hmave been one of the landmarks of Griswold, but from the lumber standpoint the best mark had been reached, hence Mr. Brewster was induced to sell to Charles Tillinghast. All sorts of valuable chestnut product is being turned out, boards, plank and ties by the thousand. There are few more interesting sights than that of the skilful work of the expert sawyer who must tell at a glance what sort of lumbers.
